

KENORA HAS A BAD FIRE

Valuable Dominion Gold Mining and Reduction Plant Destroyed

Kenora, Ap. 26.—One of the most disastrous fires in the history of Kenora was the burning this afternoon of the Dominion gold mining and reduction works situated on the lake front close to the Canadian Pacific track. For a few days past the grounds have been under the process of cleaning and rubbish burning and it is thought the fire caught near the stables from sparks. The brigade quickly responded but the flames assisted by wind spread with lightning rapidity and in two hours the heavy wooden building covered with sheet iron was a heap of ruins. In the building was a very valuable twenty stamp mill, a cyanide plant and a large quantity of valuable mining tools which are estimated to have cost $70,000. There was no insurance. The residence of A. M. Haywhip adjoining the building and also that of Charles Smith were only saved by the untiring energy of the brigade.

COULDN'T FOOL UNCLE BRETT

Dr. Brett arrived in the city from Banff, Alberta, and is spending the day inviting northern members to come to Banff and see with him over the scenic beauties of the magnificent peaks, which they so ruthlessly disregarded when choosing a capital site. Incidentally the doctor is on a still hunt for Bob Edwards.

When the Capital question was decided, on Wednesday evening, "Bob" Edwards who has been in town for a few days past to see the legislators perform, could not overlook the opportunity to dash off a few telegraphic sarcasms to his old friend Dr. Brett. So meandering to the place where the lightning-bolts manipulate the nimble key he filed the following message: Edmonton, April 25, '06.

Dr. Brett, Banff, Alta.
Brett chosen permanent capital sixteen to eight. Congratulations.

The doctor must have been right at the other end of the wire, for the answer came back at once: Banff, Apr. 25 R. J. Edwards, Edmonton.
Consult Dr. Brathwaite at once. Will be up to-morrow.

HOLIDAY JAUNT FOR LEGISLATORS

Members of the Legislature Will Take a Two Weeks' Trip Through South on a Special Train

Immediately following the closing of the legislature, which will probably take place on Thursday next, the members are going to take a trip through the southern part of Alberta on a special train and give themselves an opportunity to get acquainted with the province in which they live. The proposition has been mooted for some time, but did not take definite form until last night, when, after the House had adjourned, Hon. W. H. Cushing called a council of peace and announced to the members clustered around that they were all expected to go on a pilgrimage through the southern country with himself and Mr. MacKenzie and see what was to be seen in those parts in the merry month of May.

Mr. McKenzie, Macleod, who is one of the prime movers of the expedition, added that the invitation was to include members and their wives and the press men of the province and their wives. Mr. McKenzie believes that this only way in which the "broad expanse" and "magnificent distance" boys from the north can ever be inoculated with a due respect for the sublime grandeur and possibilities of the south is to take them right onto the ground under the most favored auspices and show them a flower garden seven townships wide, in bud, with spring wheat green for trimmings, elevators as a back ground and a few irrigation drains to give a sparkle to the picture. Mr. McKenzie promised the members that there was a banquet waiting for them in Macleod as soon as they could get to it, and that no one would lose confidence in the magnificent possibilities of Alberta by hearing the Macleod people tell it. The itinerary of the proposed pilgrimage includes Calgary, Macleod, Lethbridge, Banff, Medicine Hat and several points of interest in the land south of Red Deer.

The indications are that the members will have the busiest time of their lives trying to see all the beauty-spots and meet all the people inside of one week.

HOUSE WILL SOON PROROGUE

Legislators Will Probably Conclude Their Labors Next Week.

Prorogation is in plain sight in the legislature and the members are working day and night to get through. It is generally admitted that the session will not last longer than next Thursday.

It is altogether probable that quite a number of private bills will go over until next session pending the enactment of general legislation covering the different classes of business. If any of the professional bills go through they will pass with a clause added to the effect that when the university is established all examinations will be conducted by the university.

Of railway legislation there are six bills before the House but so far only one has got past second reading, the Vermilion and Cold Lake Ry. Co. There have been possibly even this are evidently going to be held over for a later session, although all may be given powers to proceed with surveys and do other similar work, which will not be in any way interfered with by the railway act which is to come in in January next. Pursuant to this idea the consideration of the Alberta Southern, which wound up in the bill being referred back to the railway committee, occupied most of the time of the House yesterday afternoon and led to quite a lively debate between the Minister of Public Works and the member for Macleod.

The Alberta Southern is a Calgary proposition, the incorporators of which are J. G. Van Wart, J. S. Hutchinson and A. M. Grogan. They propose to build a $5,000,000 company and ask for power to build a line from a point at or near the town of Lethbridge, westward to the B.C. line, northwesterly to Calgary, and from Macleod to branch to intersect with the Lethbridge-Calgary line.

The bill had been reported by the railway committee and the committee was plain sailing. Mr. McKenzie was in charge. When clause 16, giving the route was reached, the Minister of Public Works rose to remark that the railway charter before the House were asking for sweeping powers and while doing so it was proposed that these powers should later confer a general act to be passed by the province. As he saw it, this was an untenable position. If the companies given certain rights now it would be very hard to take those rights away by a general act eight months from now.

The particulars of the bill, passed three years in which to commence building, and he did not see that any great hardship would be incurred by holding the bill over for a few months. He has no objection to the bill, but he had been looking into the matter and he had the Deputy Minister of Public Works prepare him a report of all the bills which he brought to the House. The report of the bills were in most cases, asking for more extensive powers than it was probable that the railway act would grant.

After a very thorough discussion the Alberta Southern bill was referred back to the Railway Committee for reconsideration.

During the evening session of the House yesterday the committee on municipal law reported that they had under consideration the bill respecting the town of Macleod and they reported the bill without amendment.

J. R. Boyle moved that the bill respecting veterinary surgeons be referred to the legal bills committee. In doing so he stated that the bill had already passed the Agricultural committee, which had reported it to the House and had been considered in committee of the whole. As there appeared to be a disposition on the part of the House to make all the professional bills conform with regulations which they had in contemplation, he therefore asked leave to refer it back, adding that he had such confidence in the veterinary's bill being a good bill that he was ready to let it run the gauntlet of all the committees.

Attorney General Cross asked leave to have sub-section 2 of section 9 struck out of the land titles act. The section in question requires that deputy registrars should be sworn lawyers. The alteration was accepted by the House.

The McLeod charter amendments were taken up and held a stage. Only one clause was advanced. J. R. Boyle objected to a clause in the bill which gave the commissioners a right to appeal to the lieutenant-governor in council if they were dissatisfied by the city council. Mr. Boyle said that the city council should be in a position to fire the city commissioners any time that they wanted to—that was the way to have good commissioners.

The clause was held over and the committee reported progress. The bill will come up again Monday when it will probably be completed.

The Alberta-Pacific Elevator Co., a private bill originating in Calgary, a bill of which several Calgary gentlemen want power to engage in the elevator business, was considered by the private bills committee after the House adjourned and occupied the attention of the members until midnight.

As the Alberta-Pacific bill asks for general and rather extensive powers it is possible that it may not get through the committee as the members show a marked indisposition to grant any legislation giving powers to any company in any line that may be covered by general acts at the next session.

SENATE AGREED TO RESOLUTION

Senator Lougheed Thinks British Government Has Been Negligent of Canada

Ottawa, April 26.—The Senate today unanimously approved the resolution to invite Their Majesties to visit Canada. The resolution was moved by Senator Scott and seconded by Senator Lougheed, the new leader of the Opposition. Senator Lougheed remarked that the King had evidenced the greatest interest in Canada and had appreciated its values as a part of the Empire. The Senator was sorry he could not say so much of the King's advisers. They had treated this part of the Empire with a great deal of indifference. Not a British Premier had ever visited Canada and not a Cabinet Minister had come to Canada while holding office. There had never been any concerted effort on the part of the British Government to develop this part of the Empire. They had never attempted in any way to divert to Canada the British immigrants and British capital which had been flowing to the States and which had been so great an agency in the building up of that country. If British settlement had done something to turn the tide of men to Canada the Dominion today would have been a far more powerful factor in the Empire. Senator Macleod, who is a member of the Senate, also spoke.

Sir Richard Cartwright while agreeing with what Senator Lougheed pointed out the British Ministers were now paying more attention to Canada than formerly. The visit of the King would help to strengthen the relation between Canada and Great Britain.

WANTED THE LAW RELAXED

Ottawa, April 26.—Monk "James Cartier" moved second reading of the bill to permit the saloon keepers of Montreal not being fined for selling liquor to Catholic Indians because there was no pure-blooded Indian among them and the difficulty of telling them from white men. Brother opposed the bill and moved the six months heret. It was thrown out.

FRISCO CASUALTIES ESTIMATED

AT 3,000
San Francisco, April 26.—The known casualties in the earthquakes which visited Frisco on the morning of April 18th amounts to 3,000 killed and 400 injured. This statement is given by Dr. Edward Devine, head of the Red Cross funds. It is estimated that the insurance involved is $200,000,000. The insurance on the great Chicago fire of 1871 was $125,000,000. On that occasion small companies defaulted to the extent of $45,000,000. In Frisco it is impossible at present to estimate the damage to houses and other property. There are 197 companies who share the insurance loss. System is rapidly being evolved from the chaos which prevailed for the first few days succeeding the visitation. It is expected that by the end of the week plans of relief and for looking after the sick and injured will be so effective that the deaths once we receive the same care that a well organized army might expect in camp.

VANDALS CUT OFF WOMAN'S FINGER

Colorado Springs, Col., April 26.—Passing through here today in a Denver and Rio Grande train bound for Chicago, where her parents reside was a San Francisco fugitive, Miss Logan. She wore a bandage on her left hand. While she lay unconscious upon the floor of the lobby of a San Francisco hotel after the earthquake, Wednesday morning, the third finger of her left hand was cut off and she was robbed of her rings.

KILLED IN EXPLOSION NEAR KENORA

Kenora, April 26.—Two foreigners were killed in another dynamite accident which occurred today when two men employed as muckers at Viven and Parson's camp, at Parry Wood forty-two miles from here were instantly killed. Foreman Ben Carlson and Assistant Johnson were giving a charge in a hole when it exploded and turned over a huge boulder on top of the muckers working. Two were killed and two others injured.

RATES WILL GO UP

Chicago, Ap. 26.—There will be a general advance in fire insurance rates in the States in the near future to enable the companies to recoup in a measure their San Francisco losses. A meeting of all western managers was held in Chicago yesterday, to discuss the situation. The governing committee of the western union, the large executive body of the west decided that in the face of the present condition an advance must be made.

DON'T WANT THE MONEY

Ottawa, Ap. 26.—Hon. W. S. Fielding read a dispatch from the House of Commons from the British Ambassador at Washington stating that the U. S. would not accept the grant before the Canadian Parliament. The day in the House was devoted to the discussion of the North Atlantic Trading Company contract.

THREE HUNDRED MILLION BUSHEL

Montreal Grain Dealer Forecasts the Wheat Production for the West

Montreal, Ap. 26.—James Carruthers grain merchant, has just returned from Edmonton. He says that ten years hence the Canadian North west will produce three hundred million bushels of wheat and that Canada and the Argentine Republic will eventually supply the world.

Mackenzie & Mann will have a line to the Rockies but will not build to the Pacific coast for years. The Montreal grain dealer says that Hill's invasion of the Canadian west is no myth. He has already paid three million for terminal sites in Winnipeg. The three great railways have an idea of attempting to stop Hill's forward march on this side of the boundary, especially if no concessions are asked.

TEXAS FATHER SHOT NEGRO

Greeneburg, Texas, April 26.—While being conveyed to jail in custody of two officers, a negro, who it is alleged assaulted the daughter of J. A. Eastland, a farmer, yesterday was taken from the officers by a posse of citizens and held until the arrival of the girl's father. When Eastland rode up, he ordered the crowd to stand back and then emptied both barrels of his shot gun into the negro killing him instantly.

BIG ENGLISH RACES ON

London, April 26.—In the great Metropolitan stakes Whinbleton was first 100 to 8, Harmony Hall second, 9 to 4; Alderman third, 18 to 1. Nine horses ran.

RELIGIOUS FRACTIONS FOUGHT

Warsaw, April 26.—Religious frenzy characterized the fighting at Lenora on April 22nd between the Catholics and Munkies when ten persons were killed and 77 wounded. Four priests were terribly mutilated. The men fought like beasts. Antagonists gouged out the eyes of their adversaries.

ALDERMAN MANSON FAVORS AUTOMATIC 'PHONE SYSTEM

Text of Report in Which He Lays His Views Before the Council—Advises Thorough Investigation Into Different Systems

Following is the report in which Alderman Manson sets forth the result of his observations of various telephone systems during his recent visit to the Central States and Eastern Canada.

In accordance with the instructions of the council I made an investigation of the system and machinery of some of the various telephone manufacturing companies doing business in the Central States and Canada. Among these were the Bell Co.'s manual central energy system at Winnipeg; Bell Co. Manual central energy system at Chicago; American Automatic Electric Co.'s Strowger Automatic System at Chicago and the Canadian machine Telephone Co.'s Lorimer Automatic Central energy system at Peterboro, Ont.

As you are aware all the principle telephone systems of the world are now central energy manual operated, and it is only within the last few years that the automatic has come into the field in competition with this system. Mr. Fisher has gone into the question of this manual as automatic systems and I need not dwell on this point, but will give you an idea of the Lorimer system as seen by a layman.

"It may be stated that the system is automatic, the connections at the central office being made by machines the services of the girl operators being dispensed with. The system is a Canadian invention and is manufactured in Canada.

In principle it differs from any other telephone system either manual or automatic that has yet been invented and its advantages are not only found in the efficiency of service that it enables a company or municipality to give to the public but are most pronounced when considered in connection with the engineering difficulties which present themselves in building up a telephone system in a growing community.

GENERAL FEATURES
The exchange or central office equipment is built in units or sections, each section complete in itself and each adapted to accommodate 100 subscribers.

These sections can be used separately or collectively and when connected or grouped together can be made to form as large an exchange as desired. This means that a company may start with two sections or two machines which would give service for 200 subscribers. In the event of business developing another machine may be shipped to the central office and within forty-eight hours connected up to the other two and the exchange becomes one ready to serve 300 subscribers. Another machine or section may be added making 400, another making it 500 and so on up to any number that may be required. This advantage so simple in this system, is obviously important, as no original plant may be discarded during expansion or growth.

These machines or sections are built on a percentage system which means that only the equipment necessary to accommodate the service at the busiest hours need be installed. In other words each machine is common to 100 subscribers. There is no individual switch or apparatus for each subscriber as is the case in other systems. The service is distributed equally over all the apparatus and thereby the life or durability of the equipment is greatly increased.

With a system thus built in sections of 100 the cost of increasing the capacity of an exchange is always in direct proportion to the number of subscribers to be served and thereby to the amount of the earnings, as each section is exactly the same in all particulars, and whether it is the first section or tenth section in an exchange the cost is the same.

The special features which are not to be found in any other system allow business to be done on a minimum expenditure for central office equipment and only increase the central office equipment expenditure in almost exact ratio to the amount of business secured. It can be extended to meet the business at a fixed cost per 100 subscribers.

THE PROBLEM OF DRESS

What Fit-Reform Means to Men

Founders in Canada of Tailmade Garments Ready For Service.

T. Lord Strathcona—perhaps more than to any other one man—does Canada owe her present day prosperity and the brightness of her future. He believed in the country and the marvelous possibilities of proper development. With the sanction of the C. P. R., the nation works to its resources and greatness.

To Fit-Reform—more than to any other means—is due the fact that Canadian men have been the best dressed in the Dominion. Second: To set a standard of value so high that it would be everywhere recognized as the criterion of a man's dress. Third: That a scientific study of physique, the different types of men could be graded and a system of sizes successfully devised. The reformation of men's garments came with this solution of the system of sizes. So accurate were the first calculations, and so carefully were they tested, that any man may step into any Fit-Reform wardrobe, select the suit or Overcoat that pleases his fancy, and have it fit perfectly—be it tall or short, large or small, stout or thin, or normal.

This is what Fit-Reform meant at its inception. This is what it means to-day. It was a success at the start. It is a far greater success to-day. Men were eager to test the promise of tailmade garments, ready for service. And be it to the credit of Fit-Reform that every promise of quality and satisfaction has been faithfully kept.

Fit-Reform tailors are a trained corps of specialists. Each tailor is an expert on one part of the work. He molds collars, lapels, shoulders—puts in sleeves—shapes trousers. But does just that one thing. Naturally he acquires a skill and dexterity that no custom tailor ever does.

How can he do this? The answer is simple. It is the question of workmanship. Only painstaking expert handwork can give permanent shapeliness to a garment. No matter how a coat looks, it cannot and will not hold its shape nor retain its grace unless the inside has been properly moulded and held in place. It is because the foundation is right, that Fit-Reform garments not only impress one favorably at first glance, but also retain their shapeliness.

Of equal importance to wearers is the quality of cloth. Here the exceptional values offered by Fit-Reform may be instantly noted. The richness of the patterns, the air of quiet elegance and perfect taste, would never be possible with cloths of doubtful grades.

Every wearer of Fit-Reform garments feels the security of the Fit-Reform label. They know it is the garments behind the label that make the label stand for all that is best in tailoring.

To the man who does not know value, it is a guide to satisfaction. To the man, who is unacquainted with tailoring, it is a hallmark of perfection. To the man who does not have the time to keep abreast of the fashions, it is the surety of correctness. To all men, it is a guarantee of a great commercial advantage.

It is because of the quality of the workmanship of any garment bearing this label.

Fit-Reform has been one of the substantial successes of new Canada. Fit-Reform garments are demanded by well dressed men all over Canada. Fit-Reform is the standard of dress in the leading cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific, for once a wearer of Fit-Reform garments, always a wearer.

The Bulletin's Daily Budget From the Sister Town

Strathcona, April 25.-Dr. S. Archbold, town medical health officer, has purchased a Windsor automobile.

P. Earle of Alis, Alta., went home on the 4 o'clock train. He has been up at the capital for several days on an extensive real estate tour.

Wm. Yates was in town today on business. He reports seeing nearly done in his section and the land in good shape.

F. Hearst died at the town hospital here this morning. The remains were taken to Wainwright's undertaking parlors to await burial orders from his friends.

Wm. Godson, of the Chronicle, went south over the C. & E. on the afternoon train.

R. A. Pearson, late proprietor of the Alberta Hotel here, is down in the Vegreville district, on his homestead, and expects to take his family out, over the C. N. R. in a few days.

Lionel Winder, who came into town
a few days ago from Carleton Place, Ont., has gone down the line to look over some lands there. He was very favorably impressed with the land and prices a few miles from this town, and contemplates selling out in Missouri and becoming a resident here.

Mr. Woodruff, who has tented in town all winter, has pitched another tent since the arrival of Mrs. Woodruff.
In town, and now is surrounded by many conveniences and home comforts.
They purpose passing the summer in camping in some picturesque place, where grass, water and game are plentiful.

Messrs. Gillies and Livingstone, lately from Scotland, purpose going into the building and contracting business here at an early date. They are well pleased with the present outlook in the building trade.

The ferry at Walter's mill has again resumed business for the convenience of travellers between the two towns.

Mr. N. Sherwood, lately from Ancaster, Ont., and formerly a banker of Birmingham, England, left town on the 1 p.m. train en route for Banstead, at 1 p.m. Mr. Sherwood has secured a homestead in the Mannville district but goes south for a time before going on his farm.

Mr. Wright, of Beaver Lake, has been in town for some time with headquarters at the Alberta hotel. Mr.
Wright is a photographer, and left today for several of the new towns down the C. N. R. to practice his profession for a time.

Messrs. Crawford and Weeks, real estate, have just sold a quarter section of land, a few miles from town to William Oglethorpe of England. The purchaser is well pleased with the climate, and price of land in this locality
and will at once become a resident.

There is the man behind the horse who when the flames destroy is really useful in his place, as is he not, my boy?

Then there's the man upon the car
who takes from the fare,
He is the man who rides behind, the bold car conductor.

There is the man behind the pen, who writes this rotten verse, Who's his excuse for the fact that others write much worse.

There is besides the useful chap when others thirst are
Who works the pump, and pulls the corks, the Man Behind the Bar.

In every summer garden too, and leaf-
embowered glade,
There is the chap who does the work,
the Man Behind the Spade.

There is at sea the Man who Steers,
the Man Behind the Craft,
We think upon the whole, the Man
Behind the Craft.

Then there's the teller in the bank,
the Man Behind the Cash,
And in the restaurant the cook, the Man Behind the Hash.

And when my lady buys her hat, although it makes him ill,
The Man Behind the Lady is the chap
who pays the bill.

There is, besides, that henpecked
cuss who with reluctant feet
Walks out and shoves the baby cart
along the city street.

At table, too, you useful find the Man
Behind the Knife,
Who sits and carves the turkey, and who sometimes carves his wife.

And when the umpire says play ball,
the Man Behind the Bat,
He is the most important on the team,
you bet your boots on that;

Then when the fish are biting good,
we think upon the whole,
The chap of most importance is the Man Behind the Pole.

But if all you will admit, of all
the Men Behind,
The really most important man you ever chance to find,

The man who pays the wages bill,
who stands upon the deck,
And backs the notes and pays the cash -
the Man Behind the Check.

THE PERMANENT CAPITAL

The much-discussed question of the permanent location of the provincial capital has been settled by the defeat of the motions proposing its removal from Edmonton. By the Alberta Act Edmonton was made the seat of Government until the Lieutenant-Governor or in council should determine otherwise. The Government in turn left it to the House to make suggestions for the removal if such were deemed desirable by the members. The House on Wednesday defeated all of the proposals for the removal and in so doing expressed to the Government the opinion that the capital should remain at the present location. Having referred the question to the House the Government will of course abide by the decision of the House.

The manner in which the debate was conducted was a tribute to the good sense of the members and a matter of congratulation to the province at large. The subject was of a nature well calculated to lead to a war of words which would have been neither creditable to the Assembly nor beneficial to the Province whose destinies are placed in its hands. The movers of the resolution were placed in the position of seeking to take from one community and give to another a very enviable distinction to which each community felt itself entitled. More than this, the subject had been discussed freely on platforms and through the press in a manner which at times tended very decidedly to the development of sectional feeling. It might very well have been developed into an assault on the supporters of the Calgary resolution been men of narrow view their advocacy of the cause of Calgary might have developed into an assault on Edmonton and the northern portion of the province. Such attack would have doubtless induced replies in kind and into a contest of depreciation of the aspirations for capital honors. Such internecine war whatever its effect on the question in hand would have worked damage of far more consequence to the Province than any good which it could have done the particular place in which the capital might be located and in avoiding these consequences the members gave evidence at once of their own breadth of view and that the welfare of the Province as a whole is of more consequence to them than the distinction of a particular locality.

To Edmonton the majority by which the capital was maintained in its present location is particularly gratifying. The claim that the city has made to the honor has been that the splendid development of the district of which it is the centre has been accomplished practically without railway facilities, that the same handicap has prevented the development which should and would have taken place in the great north country to which it is the gateway and that when these requirements are supplied by the enterprises now actually under way the accelerated progress of these districts will quickly justify the city's claim to be the nearest suitable point to the ultimate centre of population in the Province. Generally speaking the debate Wednesday hinged on future prospects rather than present conditions and the result of the vote is taken by Edmonton as an indication that the members and through them the people of the Province have every faith in the future of the as yet comparatively undeveloped portions of Alberta.

Toward the other cities which aspired, and quite legitimately, to the honor, Edmonton has no ill-will and will indulge in no boasting. Nowhere in the Province more than in this city will there be hearty commendation of the sentiment expressed by the member for Gleichen when in an eloquent peroration he said:

"Whether the capital sits on the banks of the Bow or the Saskatchewan, as the waters of these two great rivers unite in one magnificent stream, so I hope that the energies of these two cities of Calgary and Edmonton will unite towards the up-building and prosperity of the province of Alberta."

HEALTH OF ANIMALS

The Federal Department of Agriculture under the Health of Animals Branch is doing an excellent work. The officials are vigilant in the discharge of their duties, as is evidenced by the manner in which they suppress or keep contagious diseases within the areas where the outbreaks occur. The following article is taken from the report of the Minister of Agriculture for the year 1905.

By far the most serious matter dealt with during the past year by the officers of this branch, and one which has taxed their energies to the utmost has been the suppression of glanders. This disease, one of the most dangerous and insidious maladies affecting any of the domestic animals has been found to exist to a very great extent among horses in several widely distant parts of the Dominion. The policy now pursued in connection with this disease, including as it does the payment of compensation to the owners of slaughtered horses, is, however, of such a nature as to offer good grounds for the hope that it will shortly be possible to control its ravages, and so prevent the heavy annual loss arising from this cause.

The order for the compulsory treatment last year of the cattle in the same infected area in Alberta and Assiniboia, having given great satisfaction and having proved highly beneficial to the animals dealt with, 1 thought it advisable to complete the work thus begun by again enforcing a similar measure. I am pleased to say that the results this season have been even more satisfactory than they were in 1904, as many owners who were at first in doubt as to the advisability of subjecting their animals to the treatment required by the regulations, were this year, after seeing the satisfactory results on stock of others, more than willing to comply with the requirements of the department. In order to show the extensive nature of the operations undertaken by the department in this connection, I need only say that $47,705 worth of cattle were treated in accordance with the terms of the order.

The disease referred to in my report of last year as dourine or malleus du cheval, which made its appearance last year among the horses of Southern Alberta, is this season, receiving careful attention at the hands of my officers.

A considerable number of affected animals have been destroyed, while those suspected of being infected are quarantined until such time as it is possible to decide accurately as to their condition. In connection with this disease, which is nowhere thoroughly understood, and which appears to vary in its manifestations under different climatic conditions, may be carefully observed with a view to the ultimate adoption of the most intelligent and economical policy possible, I have established an experiment station at the point where it was originally discovered near Lethbridge. This station is under the care of a qualified comparative pathologist, who is closely watching the effects of the disease in his care, and at the same time carrying on a series of experiments having for their object the acquiring of a more definite knowledge as to its nature and characteristics than is at present at our command.

Considerable improvement has been brought about in the methods of handling live stock in this district, although there yet remains much to be done in this direction.

The inspection of live stock for export has been carefully and systematically conducted with a view to the safeguarding of this immense and constantly increasing trade. In this connection it is gratifying to be able to report that, during the past season, upwards of 50,000 head of cattle were shipped from the Canadian Northwest, this being a marked increase over the numbers sent forward in previous years.

CLOVER BAR

(Correspondence)

The home of Mr. Philip Ottevelt of this place was the scene of a very pleasant evening on the 16th inst., when a few friends and neighbors representative of the congregation gathered to present Miss Ella Ottevelt with a silver set, consisting of cake basket, butter dish, cream jug, and half a dozen silver tea spoons. Miss Ottevelt has been organist of the Clover Bar Methodist church for several years and has rendered the services most faithfully. The evening preparatory to the presentation was spent in social intercourse. The address was read by Rev. Coulter, and was as follows:

To Miss Ella Ottevelt:
Dear Friend and Fellow-Worker: We have gathered here this evening that we may express to you our gratitude for the services you have so faithfully and cheerfully rendered during the past few years as organist of our church. Not only have you been true to the responsibilities you have undertaken in connection with the Sunday services, but on many special occasions, such as evangelistic services, etc., and indeed whenever the occasion has required you have cheerfully lent your aid.

We beg of you to accept this set of silver, not in any sense as representation for your work, but as a very slight mark of our appreciation of your services, and we trust and pray that you may long be spared to the work of God and his church.

VICTORIA MEMBER WILL ASK A QUESTION.

Frank A. Walker, of Fort Saskatchewan, member for Victoria, gave notice in the House yesterday of his intention to ask if the lands of the Western Land Co. had been transferred from the Canadian Pacific to the Western Canada Co., and if so, were they taxable.

The Western Canada Company is the concern which lately bought half a million acres of land in the Edmonton district from the Canadian Pacific and the officers of the company at the present time are inspecting the land and listing it for sale. It is reported that there is to be a general jump in their prices over those formerly asked by the C. P. R. of from $2 to $5 an acre. All this land was heretofore un-taxable owing to the C. P. R. exemption, but if it has been patented and transferred to the Western Canada Co. it thereby becomes taxable, and this is what the member for Victoria wants to find out. The matter particularly affects his district as there is a large area around Fort Saskatchewan which is included in the transfer.

MR. PATERSON MAKES EXPLANATION.

Mr. F. C. Paterson, of the Bell Telephone Co., wishes to make a correction to a statement made by him at the last council meeting. It will be remembered that the mayor asked Mr. Paterson, when he was before the council, if by following the recommendation made by Secretary-Treasurer Kinaird and making metallic circuit of all lines in use in the city the service would be half as fast again. With the present magneto board in use it would be impossible to quicken the service very much and when the number of lines reached 100 it would be impossible to carry on the service at all. The city is in the position, Mr. Paterson claims, of being forced to abandon the present magneto system in the near future under any circumstances.

Mayor Forster, of Medicine Hat, and City Solicitor Mitchell, of the same town, are in Edmonton storing their charter amendments through the legislature. They have had a busy time for the past day or two getting their bill in shape to go through at this session.

Russian Agrarian Troubles Break Out Again and Troops are Called Out

Varon, Apr. 26.—News from the village of Diewitz yesterday that Cossacks killed nineteen and wounded fifty persons in suppressing the disorders. The trouble arose when the peasants attempted to take grain from the municipal stores. The guards protested and finally one of them shot a woman whereupon the peasants in the surrounding villages assembled with scythes and axes. The guards fired repeated volleys on the peasants, killing eleven men. The Cossacks finally came up to support the guards and the peasants were driven off.

Nizhni, Novgorod, Russia, Apr. 26.—Agrarian troubles have commenced and troops have been summoned from Yaroslavl to suppress the disturbances.

much more substantial character than will be found in any other system. It is a machine strongly built and an inspection is only required to satisfy anyone of its durability. The only system that I saw that is central energy throughout. There are no batteries in the subscribers stations or telephones which in itself will probably mean a saving of about $1. per phone per year.

A storage battery plant at the central office supplies all the necessary current.

The system is compact, occupying very little space, each section or machine for 100 subscribers standing about 11-1/2 feet high and 8 feet long.

In connection with the system an automatic measured service has been perfected and can be used on any of the exchanges. This important feature means that a telephone service can be given at so much a call, so that every telephone user pays or exactly what he gets.

The measured service is said by some experts to be the system that will be adopted in charging for telephone service in future. It certainly is a feature of importance and interest where municipal or Government systems are contemplated because any of the people may have a telephone and only pay for what they use. Automatic measured service is possible with this system only.

SUBSCRIBER'S STANDPOINT
The subscriber's station or telephone is very simple to operate. To make a call the number of the subscriber wanted is set on the front of the telephone, a handle is turned, receiver taken off and a button pressed which will ring the bell of the subscriber wanted.

The number appears in plain figures before the subscriber's eye and a mistake under these conditions is hardly possible in calling the wrong number as the machine or central office equipment is always accurate if the subscriber calls the right number. When the conversation is completed the hanging up of the receiver immediately disconnects the two subscribers. If the telephone called is busy the subscriber knows it at once as he hears the busy signal when he puts the receiver to his ear.

The telephone is a mechanical device strongly made and therefore very durable.

The advantages of the services from the subscriber's standpoint may be briefly stated as follows:

- 1 Rapid connections.
- 2 Perfect secrecy.
- 3 No interruption in conversation.
- 4 Prompt service at all times as the same apparatus is on duty at night as in the day.
- 5 As the hanging up of the receiver immediately disconnects you and a second call may be turned in instantly a number of consecutive calls may be made with a great saving of time.
- 6 With the number of the subscriber wanted in figures before you if the line is busy the number may be left and after a reasonable wait another call turned in, without the trouble of looking up a number a second time.

COST AND MAINTENANCE
The cost of the system in exchange of 500 or over will be less than that of any other system while the service will be better.

The cost of maintenance is lowing to be strong character of the central office equipment.

The operating expenses will be less than any other system as the service of the girl operators are dispensed with entirely and no more attendants would be required with this system than are now found on a manual board.

GENERAL INFORMATION
The Canadian Machine Telephone Company have their first commercial system in operation in the City of Peterborough, Ont., and how this plant will stand investigation and the service be found on enquiry is best indicated by the fact that in December last the mayor, alderman and several citizens of Peterborough, Ont., where the telephone question has been under consideration and investigation, visited Peterborough and made a thorough inspection of the plant and the service and as a result the city council granted the company a twenty-one year franchise. This was done in the face of influence and efforts to discredit and obstruct Brantford in encouraging a competitive telephone system desired to have the best obtainable.

When the first exchange so satisfactory to the public and the expert and with the system's peculiar advantages of installation, growth and maintenance, the claim that has been made that this is the coming telephone system will be, it seems to me, borne out.

Many telephone experts who are acknowledged to occupy foremost positions in their profession have investigated this system and not one of them has reported unfavorably.

One strong fact that can be cited as indicating the position the system is bound to occupy in the telephone field is that the patent for the United States was sold last year to Chicago capitalists.

Chicago being the home of many large telephone manufacturers it will be readily believed that a price which is stated to be one of the largest ever paid for a patent was not secured for a new telephone system until after the closest and most searching investigation had been made. These capitalists employed their experts who had to satisfy themselves on two things: first that the system was practical and efficient; and second, that it was better and could be manufactured at less cost than the telephone system. These questions had to be and were answered satisfactorily or the sale could not have been made.

Another fact worthy of mention is that Mr. John H. H. electrical expert for the Australian Government, who spent nine months in the United States and Europe investigating the telephone system with a view to recommending to his Government the best system available for the re-equipment of the exchanges in that country which are owned by the Government, gave a very close investigation to the automatic systems and in a voluminous and exhaustive report which he placed the Lorimer system ahead of anything he saw anywhere. Two paragraphs of his report in regard to automatic systems are herewith quoted as follows:

"Dealing first with the broader aspects of the question I may at once say hesitatingly that if today one or other of the automatic systems had of necessity to be adopted for use in Australia I could not recommend that it be adopted by Messrs. Clarke, Padley and Company, because it is technically and mechanically inferior to the Lorimer System."

Of all the automatic systems seen by me, the Lorimer system not only is the best from technical, but also from mechanical considerations. It is better in principle, the parts are better in design, and better also in mechanical construction, than the Strowger system advocated by Messrs. Clarke, Padley and Company."

With regard to the speed Mr. Kelsh has stated that the time required to make the call is from 11 to 12 seconds. The following from the report of Mr. S. G. McKeen, may be of interest.

"The time required to get up a complete connection between two lines varies between certain limits. For a given speed of driving motor, or driving shaft, there is a certain minimum length of time and a maximum length of time which will be utilized in connection. Both of these limits at least and greatest time are dependent upon the main speed of the driving shaft, so that by increasing the general speed applied furnished to that shaft, all the operations are speeded up.

"As I first studied the machinery, ascertained fundamental main shaft was rotated twenty times a minute and the time required for a complete connection under these conditions was either 7-1/2 seconds at the fastest, 10-1/4 seconds at the slowest, or something between. The average of a considerable number of tests under those circumstances was nine seconds.

By running the main shaft faster than twenty revolutions per minute, corresponding reductions were made, and in another series wherein the main shaft was speeded up to about 24 revolutions per minute, connections were made with equal certainty and reliability, the average of tests in that case being 7-1/2 seconds.

I have made a considerable study of the details of the mechanism along the distinct line of decreasing still further the time of completing connections, and it is clear to me that if it should be desired to bring the total average of completing a connection down to 5 seconds this can be done without endangering the certainty of the operation of the machine in any degree.

That this conclusion is important will easily be believed when it is remembered that not only is rapid service of much importance in satisfying subscribers, and that other things being equal, the speedier the service the more popular it will be, but also that the speedier the connecting and disconnecting the greater the efficiency of each of the divisions or cord circuits of such a system as the Lorimer. By thus increasing the efficiency of each division, the cost of the central office equipment is reduced, if the average length of conversation remains constant."

In conclusion I might say that I am convinced that it would be to the advantage of the city to install an automatic system, but as I wish to set the interests of the citizens ahead to the best advantage, I advise that a thorough investigation be made into the relative merits of the different automatic systems by a practical man. As it will require at least three or four months to rebuild the outside circuits I consider that there will be ample time to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion of Lorimer vs. Strowger by the time we are ready to make the change.

Yours respectfully,
R. J. MANSON.

SOLDIER SHOT ON DUTY

New York, Ap. 27.—When the guard relief marched to Post No. 8 in Fort Hamilton reservation yesterday to relieve Alfred Cargwell of the artillery corps doing sentry duty it found the soldier dead with a bullet wound in his head and his arms on the ground beside him. On April 12th when the relief marched to the same post at the same time to relieve Private Julius Von Glahn it found Von Glahn dead with a bullet wound through his head. Graveside bay and the tour of duty during which both tragedies took place began at midnight and ends at 8 in the morning. It is distant from the barracks and is one of the loneliest posts patrolled at night. Nothing was known of the death of either sentry until the relief discovered the bodies. No shots were heard.

SMUT IN WHEAT

The Department of Agriculture for Saskatchewan has issued a very timely bulletin on "Smut in wheat and the means to be used for its prevention." It is prototypically illustrated with cuts of smut in various stages of development and in addition to a brief history of the disease has some very practical suggestions as to its treatment and eradication. Not the least useful portion of the bulletin is the summary which reads as follows:

The bunt of stinking smut of wheat is a fungous disease.

It is not native, but introduced.

It is spread by the minute black spores which adhere to grain.

The wheat plant is most subject to infection the first three days after sprouting.

A vigorous plant has more resisting power than a weak one.

Therefore all seed should be as clean and plump as can be obtained.

Conditions of soil unfavorable to healthy growth of wheat favors the smut.

Too deep or very early sowing favors smut.

Smut can be prevented by the use of bluestone or formalin.

Use one pound bluestone to six gallons water, or one pound formalin to 32 gallons.

Many use too little liquid.

Wheat will absorb about three quarters of a gallon when dipped and oats will take nearly double.

Allow about a gallon per bushel to have plenty.

Carelessness of application has resulted in much loss.

Grain loses vitality after treatment by delay in sowing.

Loose smut of wheat destroys the whole head, but is not common in the west.

Smut in oats and barley are distinct species and do not affect wheat.

Formalin is best for use on oats.

A part of the bulletin deals with the testing of bluestone and formalin for purity and strength, the department being the first to advertise the testing of samples free. Up to the date the bulletin was issued "203 samples of bluestone had been analysed. No adulterated sample had so far been encountered. The percentage of copper contained in the copper sulphate, estimated as copper oxide, was in the majority of the samples quite up to the standard (92.7 per cent.). The poorest sample contained 90.00 per cent of copper oxide. This decrease could be accounted for by the presence of an excess of moisture in these samples. They were not adulterated with iron sulphate, the usual adulterant of bluestone. Bluestone which has been exposed to dry air for a length of time loses a portion of the water of crystallization and becomes encrusted with a greenish white powder. This has been thought to be some foreign substance and such bluestone has been mistakenly said to be adulterated. Such is not the case, however, and this encrusted bluestone will regain its blue crystalline appearance if placed in a damp atmosphere for a time. On account of this bluestone being lighter in weight because of the loss of water a proportionately smaller quantity is required in making a solution with which to treat the seed grain.

"This solution should be transparent and of a light greenish blue color. There should be no curdled masses or other undissolved material. Alkali water does not make a good solution of bluestone, because the magnesia and certain other earthy salts combine with the copper sulphate to form an insoluble compound which is of questionable value as a preventative of smut. If possible soft water should be used to make the solution of bluestone.

"Only 25 samples of formalin had been received for analysis. Sixteen of these proved to be of 40 per cent. strength. The remainder were under the required 40 per cent. standard, the lowest being 34.5 per cent. Formalin, when of standard strength is preferable to bluestone as a fungicide for smut, because (1) it acts more promptly and vigorously; (2) the solution is not affected by alkali water; (3) the grain, after treatment, is in better condition for the sower. To secure the best results, however, the formalin must be full 40 per cent. in strength else the resulting solution will be too weak. The water and formalin should be measured out accurately; a certain number of fluid ounces to each gallon of water according to the strength of the solution with which the seed grain is treated. By thus measuring the water and the formalin the farmer protects himself against the above measure pound package. A pound of formalin should contain 16 fluid ounces; and none should be used for smut, the strength of which is not known. If below 40 per cent strength, proportionately larger quantity must be added to the water to make the resulting solution of the required strength."

LAMONT

(Correspondence)

Things certainly look quite promising in our town. The sound of hammers is heard from morning till night. J. Lilge has the honor of being the first to supply the needs of the town. He has opened up a splendid store and we predict for him a successful business venture.

Red, Walker and Holmes are now getting their building completion. Safford and Magie are putting up a comfortable living room and a kitchen. Dr. Archer has had men busy clearing the beautiful grove to the north of his residence and leveling the ground around his house, and it would be hard to find a prettier spot in Alberta than the west end of Lamont.

Mr. Johnson, the country man, is at work getting things in readiness for the latter part of May. Dr. Arch has secured a large number of the patients who really too far away to receive daily treatment. Messrs. Wagh and Dallas of Moose, are in town and intend to commence the erection of a hardware store.

Hotel accommodation is very much needed. Every night people come here and find that the hotel is not ready for accommodation.

Dr. G. M. Connolly, V.S. of Vegreville, paid a professional visit here this week. Smith and Torrie shipped two cars of cattle this week and expect to ship a car of cattle and a car of hogs next week.

Mr. Abbott, the superintendent of this division passed through here last week. He interviewed the citizens as to their requests. Stock yards are to be built at once. A telegraph car will be put in until such time as a station is built. A stock chute will be sent at once for the convenience of those shipping cattle.

Mrs. Crow had the misfortune to break her wrist in falling from a buggy.

Mrs. and Miss Walker of Agricola, are spending a few days at Lamont.

—The annual ball of the Thistle Hockey Club takes place at the Thistle rink tonight.

—The new steam roller for the city arrived a few days since and is now busy on the city streets.

—The Molsons Bank will open in a day or two in the McDonald block on Jasper avenue, near Second street.

—The Edmonton Carriage Co. have opened an office in the premises formerly occupied by Sheriff Robertson.

—The firm of Short, Cross & Biggar, barristers, will shortly occupy their handsome new offices in the Merchants Bank building.

—The foundations are being commenced for the new immigration building on First street on the north side of the C. N. R. track.

—Revillon Bros.' new warehouse on First street has been opened, and is being used for the storage of goods from the special train.

—The Traders Bank will open a branch in a few days in the new building next the National Trust building. J. Hefferman will be the manager.

—The city council meet this evening to decide the telephone question. All reports, including the one from the new city engineer are to be laid on the table.

—Percy C. Hook, musical director of Alberta College, is giving a recital in McDougall church on Thursday evening May 28th, assisted by several of the faculty of the college.

—Sheriff Robertson has moved his offices from his old stand next the Bon-Ton to the block formerly occupied by Lubbock & Moffatt, and is occupying offices upstairs.

—Tickets for the annual ball of the hockey club Friday evening in "the Thistle rink are $2 for gentlemen and $1 for ladies. They are on sale at Archibald's and the Capital Drug Store.

—One of the most enjoyable social evenings that have been held in All Saint's church was held Wednesday evening, at which there was a large attendance. Refreshments were served.

—The intermediate baseball club will hold their adjourned meeting at the Penitentiary this evening. All officers are requested to be present, and any one interested is invited.

—Great interest is being evinced in the visit of Madame Albini and her company on May 31st. Those who have not already subscribed for tickets should do so at once. Lists are at Archibald's drug store.

—The Strathcona Plaindealer has published an illustrated "school edition." The issue contains illustrated articles on the schools of Strathcona and district and on Alberta College, Edmonton.

—A general meeting of the curling club was held Wednesday evening in the rink, at which there was a rather poor attendance. A committee was appointed to look after delinquent members and secure their membership fees.

—The adjourned meeting of the intermediate baseball team will be held at the Penitentiary this evening. A full attendance of all officers and prospective members is requested, as there are several matters of importance to be discussed.

—The death occurred on Wednesday of Sarah Ann White, wife of Andrew White, of this city. Deceased was 34 years of age. The funeral took place this afternoon from the residence to Grace Church, where services were held, thence to the Edmonton cemetery Rev. A. S. Tuttle officiating.

—The Alberta Agencies, Limited, have received a letter from the head office of the Home Insurance Company of New York, in which they state their total liabilities in San Francisco are about $3,500,000 and that their loss will be about $2,000,000. The letter reads as follows:—The officers claim the Company will have a reserve of upwards of $7,000,000 after paying this loss.

—A well attended union meeting in the interests of the Lord's Day Alliance was held Wednesday evening in the First Baptist church. The speakers were Rev. A. S. Tuttle and Rev. S. B. Nixon, of Ayr, Ont., who gave addresses on the work of the Alliance. Rev. Mr. Nixon, who is at present occupying the pulpit of First Presbyterian church, is a member of the executive of the Lord's Day Alliance.

—The Free Press of Winnipeg says that at the meeting of the Alpine Club of Canada held in that city a few days ago, and at which there were delegates from all parts of Canada, as far east as Halifax, and as far west as Vancouver, Rod & Gun in Canada, the pioneer sportsman and tourist magazine, published at Woodstock, Ont., by W. J. Taylor, was made the official organ of the club.

—P. W. Peters, of the C. P. R., E. H. Macklin, of the Winnipeg Free Press and Mr. Merich, of the Merich-Anderson Co., of Winnipeg, camp up on Mr. Peters' private car last night, and are in the city today preparing to spend a few days in the Edmonton district duck shooting. Although Mr. Macklin is manager of the greatest paper in the west, this is his first visit to Edmonton and he is taking advantage of it in the dual respect of enjoying himself shooting ducks and getting acquainted with the people and the country.

—The Free Press, Forest, Ont. Dr. W. H. Pickering, who has had the leading veterinary practice in Forest for fifteen years, has decided to locate in Edmonton, Alberta, and go into partnership with his brother, Dr. J. H. Pickering, of that city. The removal of Dr. Pickering from Forest will be a loss to the town, but as a change is necessary for the benefit of the health of Mrs. Pickering's many friends here, will all join in the hope that life in the great west will restore her to her former good health. For ten years past Dr. Pickering has held the office of Government Inspector of live stock here, a position which his abilities well qualified him to fill. The Free Press wishes him success in Alberta.

THE Y. M. C. A.

The Y.M.C.A. started an active campaign this week for raising funds for their proposed building in the city. The estimated cost of the building is $50,000 will be made for public and members' reading rooms, members' parlor, billiard and game room, members' reception room, gymnasium, bowling alley and locker rooms, public correspondence room and hall for concert and banquet purposes, members' plunge and shower baths, lavatories, special provision for boys' work, offices and smoking room should members desire it.

MADAME ALBINI

Madame Albini is the only vocalist of world wide reputation that Canada has yet produced. This lends a national pride to her accomplishments and gives her a peculiar hold upon the people of her native land which probably accounts largely for the immense audiences which have greeted her on her appearances in this country. Madame Albini is now on her farewell tour of Canada, accompanied by a distinguished company of musicians and vocalists and will appear in the Thistle rink on May 9th. On a former visit to the city some years ago while Edmonton was a much smaller town than it is today the great singer was greeted by a large audience and a still larger crowd will doubtless avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing her again.
